

Dr. Salih Mohamed Harun is a South Sudanese from Morobu County, born in 1972 in the small town of Kaya. Studied in the University of the Holy Quran and Islamic Science where he obtained Bachelor of degree in Social work in 2003. Postgraduate Diploma in peace and development studies University of Juba 2007.

Master of Arts in peace and development studies University of Juba 2009. In 2018 he was awarded PhD in peace and development studies in the University of Juba.

He worked as a director in Open University of Sudan from 2007 to 2011, and as Registrar in the School of Community Studies and Rural Development and become Head of Department of Community Studies in the School of community Studies and Rural Development from 2018 up to date.